Consultation questions	Your response
Q1. Do you agree with the PSA's assessment that the evidence gathered from the research and other information, data and inputs considered support implementation of Special conditions for all subscriptions as an appropriate and proportionate response? If not, please set out your alternative approach and the supporting evidence.	Confidential? No Absolutely this needs to be done to protect people from subscribing to something that they do not want or agree to.
Q2. Do you agree with our proposed approach that the proposed Special conditions be applied to all phone-paid subscription services to create clarity and certainty for providers of subscription services, with any additional requirements under other Special conditions not being replicated in the proposed conditions?	Confidential? No Yes

Q3. Do you agree that the research and other information, data and inputs we considered support action on each of the identified issues outlined in this document? If not, please provide supporting evidence?	Confidential? No Yes it does
Q4. Do you agree with our analysis using the risk taxonomy (outlined from paragraph 249 of this document) that Special conditions represent a proportionate regulatory response to the risk of harm posed by phone-paid subscription services? If not, please provide supporting evidence.	Confidential? No Yes they do
Q5. Are there any other issues not addressed through our proposed response that you consider warrant regulatory action in light of the research and other information, data and inputs considered? If yes, please provide supporting evidence.	No
Q6. Do you have any views or evidence on the use and effectiveness of free trial periods of varying durations to support the PSA in considering what might be appropriate in the context of phone-paid subscription services?	There should be reminders sent out before the end of the free trial period confirming that the free period is ending and what the charge will be on the date it ends unless the account is closed. For example the Amazon Prime service that reminds you that the trial period is ending, what the charge will be and when it will be applied.
Q7. Do you have any additional comments?
